WHAT WE DO.

- ACPMP has awarded $1,300,000 in the form of twenty-seven research grants since 2009. We provide two $50,000, 2-year grants each year.
- ACPMP provides scholarships to physicians attending relevant medical conferences.
- ACPMP partners with institutions treating appendix cancer and PMP to host regional patient and physician focused educational symposiums two to four times per year. These events highlight the HIPEC program at the host institution for the local medical community and give both patients and physicians the opportunity to hear about the latest developments in the treatment of these diseases. It also provides patients with the opportunity to connect with other patients in person.
- Established the first centralized charitable organization to fund appendix cancer and PMP research.
- ACPMP plays a leading role in the dissemination of accurate information regarding PMP and appendix cancer both to the patient and medical communities.
- Create initiatives and resources for patients, caregivers and medical professionals with information in managing/treating this disease.

WHY WE DO IT.

- Prior to the formation of the ACPMP Research Foundation, there was no centralized organization dedicated to raising funds for distribution for PMP and appendix cancer research in an objective way.
- Private donations for PMP and appendix cancer research were primarily made to individual doctors rather than towards competitive, RFP-driven funding based on the quality of the science.
- From the patient's perspective, research often appeared to be redundant or theoretical with little coordination between researchers.
- Movement appeared slow to change clinical practice or improve curability.
- The rarity of PMP and appendix cancer translates into minimal government funded research.
- PMP and appendix cancer patients continue to be misdiagnosed and/or not offered the optimum treatment for these diseases.
